

BEYOND THE ARAB SPRING

Lent Term: Thursdays 5.15 – 6.45pm

Place: Keynes Hall, King's College, University of Cambridge

The event is free and open to all.

19 January 2012

Professor Yasir Suleiman CBE, FRSE, University of Cambridge

'Narrating the Arab Spring'

2 February 2012

Professor Fawaz Gerges, London School of Economics

'The Islamist moment: Domestic and geostrategic implications?'

16 February 2012

Dr Maha Abdelrahman, University of Cambridge

'Political transformation in post-Mubarak Egypt'

1 March 2012

Dr Abdelwahab El-Affendi, University of Westminster, Visiting Fellow of Centre of Islamic Studies

'The Arab Spring: Islamist revolution or revolution within Islamism?'

Credit: SyrianETF from Flickr

'I want to bring the regime down'

Sponsored by the Centre of Islamic Studies, the Centre for the International Relations of the Middle East and North Africa (CIRMENA) at the Department of Politics and International Studies (POLIS) and King's College, University of Cambridge

Further information can be found at www.cis.cam.ac.uk